Course overview

Drawing from Nature: A One-Day Course at the Russell Cotes Museum. Immerse yourself in the captivating world of natural artistry with our one-day "Drawing from Nature" course, proudly taking place at the Russell Cotes Museum. This unique experience invites you to explore the intricate beauty of the natural world through the lens of art. In this intensive workshop, you will be guided by an experienced artist to hone your observational skills and artistic techniques. The course is designed to cater to all levels, from beginners to seasoned artists, ensuring a supportive and enriching learning environment for everyone.

Course description

The course is designed to be hands-on, offering practical exercises and demonstrations to help you grasp the fundamentals of drawing in the Victorian style. Whether you're a beginner eager to learn the basics or an experienced artist looking to expand your skills, this course provides a welcoming and supportive environment for all levels.

In addition to honing your drawing skills, "Day at the Museum" offers a unique opportunity to engage with the museum's collection in a meaningful way. By studying Victorian sculptures and paintings up close, you'll gain a deeper appreciation for the artistry and craftsmanship of the period.

Join us for a day of creativity, exploration, and inspiration as we journey back in time to the Victorian era through art. By the end of the course, you'll not only have developed your drawing abilities but also gained a new perspective on the rich artistic legacy of the Victorian era.

Don't miss out on this exceptional opportunity to learn and create in the beautiful surroundings of the Russell Coates Museum. Book your place today and embark on a captivating artistic adventure!
