Course overview

This course is funded by the Department for Education and only open to residents living in non devolved authorities. This short 6?hour course introduces adults to the essential knowledge and practical awareness needed to keep children safe and healthy at home and in everyday situations. Across three 2?hour sessions, learners explore common risks, how to prevent accidents, and what to do when concerns arise. The course covers topics such as home safety, recognising signs of illness, responding to minor injuries, safe supervision, and understanding when professional help is needed. Through discussion, demonstrations and practical examples, learners build confidence in creating a safer environment for children and supporting their wellbeing.

Course description

Child Safety and Health Awareness is a practical 6?hour introductory course designed to help adults understand how to keep children safe, healthy and well in everyday situations. Delivered over three 2?hour sessions, the course explores the most common risks children face at home and in the community, and provides clear, simple guidance on how to prevent accidents and respond confidently when issues arise.

Learners will look at home safety, safe supervision, and how to create child?friendly environments that reduce hazards. The course also covers recognising early signs of illness, understanding when to monitor a child at home and when to seek medical advice, and how to respond to minor injuries such as bumps, scrapes, small burns or falls. Practical examples and demonstrations help learners understand what to do in real?life situations.

The course also introduces healthy routines that support children's wellbeing, including hygiene, sleep, nutrition and safe play. Learners are encouraged to share experiences, ask questions and build confidence in their ability to support children's safety and health.

By the end of the course, adults will feel more prepared to create safe environments, respond appropriately to common incidents, and promote positive health habits for the children in their care.
