Course overview

This course is funded by the Department for Education and only open to residents living in non devolved authorities. This course supports adults returning to education by building confidence, resilience, and essential learning behaviours. Learners will explore growth mindset, time management, independence, health and wellbeing and communication skills. Through interactive activities, reflection, and goal setting, learners will develop self-awareness and readiness for future study. Flexible modular units allow learners to focus on areas most relevant to their needs, creating a personalised pathway to success. Ready to Learn empowers learners to thrive in modern learning environments with confidence and purpose.

Course description

This course is designed for adults returning to learning who want to rebuild confidence, strengthen essential study skills, and develop positive habits for successful education or training. Through a practical and supportive approach, the course introduces key themes such as growth mindset, effective time management, independent study skills, communication, and personal wellbeing. Learners will explore simple, achievable strategies to overcome common barriers, manage everyday commitments, reduce stress, and build resilience. The aim is to help each learner feel more in control of their learning journey and better equipped to succeed.

Throughout the course, learners will take part in guided self-reflection and goal-setting activities to recognise their strengths and identify areas for development. You will be encouraged to think about how you learn best, how to stay motivated, and how to balance study with work, family, and other responsibilities. By the end of the course, you will have created a personalised action plan that outlines your next steps and supports your progression. Whether you are hoping to move into further education, training, volunteering, or employment, this course offers the tools, mindset, and confidence you need to take that next step with assurance and clarity.
