Teaching and Training Adults

The Teaching and Training Adults Pathway provides opportunities to explore the skills needed to teach or train adults in the community or at work. The pathway leads to a Level 3 nationally recognised qualification in Education and Training for Adults, the minimum needed for work in many education organisations.
Pathways

WEA works with partners to develop tailored Pathways for adult learners.

The Get Started range of courses and tasters aim to build confidence and self-esteem. Students can move to the Develop range of courses. Some students may wish to start at the Develop stage.

Get Started

- Introduction to teaching adults in the community Taster
  Explore how adults learn and why teaching in the community can be so rewarding.

- Presentation skills Taster
  Discover how to impart knowledge to others in an interesting way.

- What is mentoring? Taster
  Explore the key skills and qualities needed for mentoring.

Develop
